EHR Toolkit Overview: Planning & Procurement

This webinar introduces MeHI’s new EHR Planning and Procurement Toolkit. We will provide guidance on using the toolkit and highlight best practices in EHR planning & procurement.

The webinar will highlight the essential first steps that are needed for successful implementation of an EHR system. MeHI’s webinar will review the four primary phases in the process:

(1) Pre-solicitation and preparation;
(2) Vendor solicitation;
(3) Vendor evaluation and selection; and
(4) Vendor relationship management.

Each phase of the process includes a series of steps to follow, accompanied by resources and tools such as checklists and templates, to help you plan for EHR procurement. MeHI staff will walk attendees through the toolkit's recommended action steps and highlight the collateral materials for the planning and procurement process.

ACHE of Massachusetts Spring Conference 2015

Your Health in Your Hands: A Summit on Technology and Innovation

ACHE of Massachusetts, an independent chapter of the American College of Healthcare Executives, is hosting the upcoming conference, Your Health in Your Hands: A Summit on Technology and Innovation, at the Sheraton Needham Hotel. This event will provide unique insight into the inner workings of a wide range of healthcare companies filling unmet needs in today's care delivery market.

According to ACHE of Massachusetts, the conference will focus on how to "Empower Patients to Manage and Providers to Deliver Care in New Ways" and will highlight the following themes:

- How is technology changing the way we deliver care and engage patients?
- What are companies doing to drive innovation in care delivery?
- What is the role of hospitals in introducing and driving innovations in care delivery?
- How do you, as a hospital executive, evaluate these new technologies aimed at care delivery?
How are your organizations driving change and implementing innovations?
What are the challenges of innovating in care delivery and engaging patients?
How are payers thinking about reimbursement of these innovations?

Why Attend?

- Learn about innovative companies and the various ways in which they are engaging patients and providers to delivery care in new ways
- Understand the opportunities and challenges these disruptive innovators face in trying to change care delivery
- Recognize the role of provider organizations in driving innovations and technology to engage patients and drive care redesign

This year's Big Data in Healthcare summit is April 28th - 30th in Boston and focuses on how to improve the healthcare experience you deliver.

The two-day agenda includes topics such as:

- Predictive Analytics and Decision-Making;
- Improving Patient Safety and Outcomes;
- How to Reduce Healthcare Costs;
- Ways to Increase Operational Efficiency;
- Case Studies and Lessons Learned; and more!

The event organizers encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity to surround yourself with the game changers in big data. Learn, interact and network with experts from leading providers, payers and research officials who have implemented and rolled out their big data strategies successfully.

MeHI's eHealth Programs Director, Sean Kennedy, is among the list of speakers and will present on how Health Information Exchange (HIE) plays a key role in data analytics.
